Introduction

The OLC (Europe) College Handbook is intended to give students guidance on what is expected from them during their time at the College, what they can expect from the College in return, and an introduction to the forms and procedures they will need to fill out and follow in the course of their studies.

Dedicated to providing students with the best learning experience possible, OLC (Europe) adheres to the teaching practice of “Learning by Doing” to ensure that each and every student has the optimal chance of achieving their potential.

If anything in this handbook is unclear please see a member of OLC Staff for clarification. The College is open every weekday, except Bank Holidays, and staff will be available for guidance on college, academic or personal issues from 9am to 5pm.

The Government emphasise that colleges are required to ensure that key ‘British Values’ are taught in all UK colleges.

The Five British Values are:

- Democracy
- The Rule of Law
- Individual Liberty
- Mutual Respect
- Tolerance of those of different faiths and beliefs

OLC will ensure to promote these values inside and outside of the classroom. We follow equal opportunities guidance which guarantees that there will be no discrimination against any individual or group, regardless of faith, ethnicity, gender, sexuality, political or financial status, or similar. OLC is dedicated to preparing students for their adult life beyond the formal examined curriculum and ensuring that it promotes and reinforces British values to all its students.

Induction and Registration

All students will attend induction and registration prior to the commencement of learning where students will be introduced to the principles surrounding British Values and the government’s prevent programme during induction onto the course. This allows students to receive all the key information you need to begin your studies. It is also a great opportunity to meet your course team, meet new friends, and prepare you for your studies.

Included during induction is a tour of your campus and information on the additional services that we have to offer.

Here at OLC we understand that students may be returning to education after some time and encourage students to understand and develop their learning styles. Also included during induction are workshops and taught sessions that enhance your learning, prepare you for your studies and aim to equip you to be successful while on your academic journey.

NCG students should complete the HE NCG Induction checklist (see link below), once instructed by tutors.

The Organisational Learning Centre Assessment Guidance

Assessment is an important part of your studies. It helps provide a picture of your progress and achievement and identifies the next steps of your learning. At the Organisational Learning Centre you will be given a variety of different assessment types in order to give you the very best chance of meeting the learning outcomes for your programmes.

An assessment has two purposes: formative assessment provides regular feedback about how your work is progressing. Summative assessment measures and records your achievement of modules towards the qualification.

There are different pass grades attainable on each assessment. If you receive a referral for an assessment then you have not met the requirements to pass and you will need to resit/resubmit.

Remember that you must pass all your assessments in order to pass the module, and you must pass all of your modules to complete your programme. However, in some circumstances where you have not fully met the pass criteria, one module maybe compensated in order to complete your programme.

Each of the different assessment types has different requirements that you should be familiar with. Some of the different types you might be given are:

Assignment: These are tasks given for you to complete outside of scheduled lesson time, within a given timescale (usually around 4 weeks). They can take the form of either a written report or essay. The individual requirements for these will vary from assignment to assignment, but there are several which are universal.

Tasks should always be word processed and be written in a student's own words; plagiarising the work of others will result in failure of the assignment and possible further action being taken against you. Any and all references to outside knowledge and theories should be completed in the Harvard style. Any previously marked drafts of your assignment must be included when you hand in your assignment.

Once completed, assignments should be handed in via Turnitin, which can be accessed through the Virtual Learning Environment (VLE) Moodle.

Assignment briefs for completion will be made available in the module guides and e-copies will be available on the college VLE Moodle. As deadlines approach you will also be able to ask for spare assignment briefs at the front office of your campus, if required.

Exam-Style Time Constrained Assessment: Questions and tasks given to be completed under examination conditions. These time constrained assignments are usually 1-3 hours long. Answers are to be written within the provided answer booklet unless instructions on the question paper state otherwise. Always ensure that you have filled in the front of these answer booklets with all your relevant information.

One or more invigilators will be present while the time constrained assessment is underway. If you need anything during the assessment then raise your hand and the invigilator will see you. Invigilators will help you understand the questions on the paper but will not help you with the answers. The assessment will be held in silence and all mobile phones should be turned off. Breaches of the examination conditions may lead invigilators expelling you from the assessment with your paper ungraded. Serious breaches may lead to further action being taken against you.

Presentations: Individual or group presentations to be given in front of an audience. You will be given a question or task and will have to prepare a presentation in order to answer/complete it. These presentations will have strict time limits, usually around 5-20 minutes, and must contain a certain amount of presentation slides. Within these presentations it is not just your answers which are being assessed but also your presentation and communications skills. A paper copy of your presentation slides is to be submitted at the time of delivering your presentation, and your tutor may also set a written report to support it.

Projects: Projects follow the same basic rules as assignments but are longer and more detailed. As such, you will have a longer amount of time in order to prepare them. Projects usually are based on answering research questions or solving and implementing solutions to programme specific problems. Once complete, the project is submitted in the same way as an assignment.

Portfolios: Portfolios of work are made up from several smaller pieces of work that come together to form a collection showing that you have met the learning outcomes of your module. These pieces of work may be worked upon in class or in your own time. Once the portfolio is complete it should be submitted in the same manner as assignments.

Academic Poster: Academic Posters are a representation of your work, communicated through visual imagery, infographics, text, tables and graphs to summarise your project and its conclusions. The information is displayed in sections, using heading and subheadings to draw interest and eyeline of the viewer, with the use of colour. Once completed the academic poster is submitted in the same way as an assignment.

NCG HE Assessment Policy - <https://www.ncgrp.co.uk/media/itjxi0m/ncg-he-assessment-policy.pdf>

A Note on Plagiarism and Examination Offences: Plagiarism is the act of reproducing someone else's work and presenting it as your own. This can be as minor as simply forgetting to reference an idea, to as serious as handing in work which has been directly copied from a book, website, another student or any other source. Plagiarism is bad academic practice and if you are found to have deliberately committed plagiarism then action will be taken against you. Also, if your similarity score is above 30%, (NCG Academic Misconduct Policy) you will be invited to attend a plagiarism meeting to clarify the authenticity of your work.

No action will usually be taken where the plagiarism is just due to accidental referencing errors, other than the assignment being referred.

For major incidences of plagiarism your work will be referred to the programme manager, who will decide what action to take.

Examination offences include talking or cheating during time constrained assessments, bringing in unauthorised materials or devices, disruptive behaviour and any other behaviour or action that might threaten the reliability of the assessment results. If you are believed to have committed an examination offence, the invigilator will seize your work and remove you from the assessment room; you will then be referred to the programme manager who will take further action.

Almost all plagiarism and examination offences will result in you receiving a formal written warning. The ultimate penalty for plagiarism and examination offences is expulsion from the college.

If you feel that any decision on plagiarism or examination offences has been made against you unfairly, or in error, you have the right to appeal. In the case where a decision has been made to expel you from the college, an appeal hearing will be arranged automatically. Refer to the appeals section of the College Handbook for further information on the appeals process.

Further information regarding plagiarism is available in the NCG Academic Regulations:

<https://www.ncgrp.co.uk/guide-to-information/higher-education-at-ncg/>

This assessment guidance was updated on 10/08/2023.

External Examiner

At OLC we have a quality improvement system to assess that internal marking has been appropriately and consistently applied. In order to ensure the continuing standards and quality is implemented the external examiner will provide an independent view as to whether the work of students on the programme is of correct standard. The external examiner will look at a sample of work (assignments) and discuss the work with the module leads and attend the assessment boards. The external examiner will produce an annual report which identifies concerns and recommendations which then informs good practice.

Further information regarding the role of the examiner is available from QAA UK Quality Code.

<https://www.qaa.ac.uk/quality-code/advice-and-guidance/external-expertise>

The EE reports for 2020/21 can be accessed via the OLC Moodle page or by following this link:

The Role of the Personal Tutor

Your Module tutor is also your personal tutor during your time at OLC Europe College.

The tutor's role includes:

- To meet with you for a minimum of 4 times each academic year
- Being first line of the complaints / support procedure
- To track attendance and punctuality
- To initiate the intervention process for poor attendance and punctuality
- To initiate the intervention process for non-submissions
- To discover any issues / barriers for non-submissions
- To direct you to the correct place for information
- To set goals
- To send you mitigating circumstances / request for leave forms

It is important to attend any requested meetings and to keep your module tutor/programme lead or student services informed of any changes in your circumstances.

NCG HE Tutorial Policy - <https://www.ncgrp.co.uk/media/ebfjrryr/ncg-he-tutorial-policy.pdf>

NCG HE Recognition of Prior Learning

NCG recognises learning wherever it may take place and that knowledge and skills can be acquired from a whole range of learning experiences, both formal and informal. We therefore encourage credit transfer and Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL) as a means of entry to, or credit within, all our programmes. Such recognition will take place within the context of the institution's policy and procedures and within the specific requirements of the awarding body.

If you require information about how to apply for recognition of the skills you have acquired through employment or formal learning, your programme leader will be able to discuss the process with you.

NCG HE Fitness to Practise

It is the institution's responsibility to ensure that students admitted, registering for and undertaking programmes of study leading to professional qualifications are professionally suitable to do so. NCG has a duty to protect the public by ensuring that each student is fit to practise at the level at which a student is studying. Assessment of a student's fitness to practise, and the student's compliance with professional codes of conduct is an integral part of a professional programme. NCG has a duty to protect the public by ensuring that students are fit for practise placements and fit to practise at the point of registration on completion of their programme. The NCG Fitness to Practise Policy and Procedure supports students throughout their period of study at NCG from admissions to graduation.

NCG HE Fitness to Study

NCG has a responsibility to ensure that students admitted onto their higher education programmes are fit to study. Fitness to study relates to a student's capacity to participate fully and satisfactorily as a student, in relation to academic studies and life generally at NCG. NCG is committed to supporting student wellbeing and recognises that a positive approach to the management of physical and mental health is crucial to student learning, academic achievement and progression, and the wider student experience. The NCG Fitness to Study Policy and Procedure supports students throughout their period of study at NCG from admissions to graduation.

NCG HE Academic Appeals

The purpose of this procedure is to enable a student to request that NCG reconsiders a decision about their academic progress that could have the effect of hindering progression, terminating studies, or affecting the level of award achieved.

You will also have to explain what you have done to try to remedy the complaint informally and what you would like us to do next. The process is explained in the Complaints Procedure on the NCG website.

Suspension of Studies

Suspension of Studies Form: Important information for students

If you are going through a difficult period with your studies, there are ways that we can help you and suspension of studies, which is usually for one academic year, could be an option for you. Suspending your studies may sometimes seem like a quick and easy solution to your problems, but it may not be the best option for you and it is important that you seek advice before making the decision to suspend your studies.

If you are thinking of suspending your studies the first thing you need to do is contact your Programme Leader for academic advice.

Please ensure that you have spoken to your College Administration Department/Student Services and the Student Loans Company (SLC)/Student Finance England (SFE) to understand any funding issues.

If you are an international student on a Tier 4 visa please contact the international office before suspending your studies.

More information relating to suspending your studies can be access via this link within the Useful Information section

<https://www.ncgrp.co.uk/guide-to-information/our-policies-and-procedures/he-regulatory-document/>

Results and Certification

Examination Committees and Board of Examiners meetings are where decisions are agreed regarding your achievement. The Board of Examiners meeting is where your results are approved and your degrees awarded. Prior to your results being confirmed by the Board of Examiners all results are provisional.

Notification of Results

After confirmation of your results by the Board of Examiners you will be given a transcript showing your modules, marks and associated credit.

Where re-assessment or mitigating circumstances are involved confirmation of results will take place at the next scheduled meeting of the Board of Examiners, normally September.

When you can expect to hear about your results?

Once student results have been moderated they are submitted to an Examination Committee where module results are formally recorded. A committee is held within each curriculum area to ratify module marks. These marks are taken to the Board of Examiners where a decision is reached on your results based on your achievement. The Board will confirm and make awards and classifications.

External Examiners will also be appointed to contribute to the decision process on individual progression and awards. The role of the External Examiner at the Board is to guarantee fairness and equity and ensure that comparability of standards is maintained between students and across different years of a programme.

Until confirmed by the Board of Examiners (normally at the end of the academic year), all marks are provisional. Module tutors and Programme Leaders will mark your assessments and provide you with feedback about how your work is progressing. You should not assume that these will be the final marks until they are confirmed by the Board of Examiners/Progression and Award Board.

Nor should you make any assumptions about your eligibility to progress from year to year or to be awarded your Degree until your results have been confirmed by the board.

You will receive confirmation of your results within 5 working days of the date when the Board of Examiners are held.

The table below provides you the dates of all Board of Examiners for this academic year.

Date	Awarding Body	Meeting	Curriculum Area
WC 28/08/2023	NCG	Reconvened Board of Examiners	All
WC 24/06/2024	NCG	Progression and Award Board	All
WC 01/07/2024	NCG	Board of Examiners	All

Replacement Certificates

We do not keep copies of replacement certificates but we can have them produced. Please note that only one hard copy of your certificate can be in existence at any one time and a replacement will only be issued in the event that the original has been lost, stolen or destroyed.

The fee for a replacement certificate is £50

To order a replacement please contact 0191 2004014 or CertificateQueries@ncgrp.co.uk

We aim to have the replacement certificate produced and posted within 21 working days.

Reasonable Adjustment

Assessment and examination policies, practices and procedures will provide students who have a special educational need and/or disability with the equivalent opportunity to their peers to demonstrate the achievement of learning outcomes. If you require specific arrangements to be put in place to support your studies please contact the relevant college support team and/refer to the information in this handbook (section 1 - Student Journey).

As part of the application and admissions process, all students receive information regarding the support available to them whilst studying HE at NCG. At the point of application, students are encouraged to disclose their special educational need and/or disability. However, disclosure can happen at any point whilst on programme.

The process for accessing support for HE students differs from that of FE students. A HE student wishing to receive support whilst studying is required to contact the relevant college support team and provide evidence of their learning disability/specific learning difference and/or specific learning need. Once a student has disclosed their support needs, they will be contacted by a member of the relevant support team who will carry out an initial assessment.

Students who disclose a learning disability/ specific learning difference are eligible to apply for Disabled Students' Allowance (DSA) and will be supported in their application. The following link provides information on the process 'Disabled Students' Allowance Roadmap' www.yourdsa.com.

Complaints and Feedback Procedure

Introduction

OLC (Europe) Ltd take all concerns and complaints seriously and deal with them using the Complaints and Feedback Policy. It is only through a proper feedback system that it can improve services to both the staff and the students. It may take the form of a concern being reported informally or a more formal complaint being submitted in writing.

Aim

The aim of this policy is to outline the arrangements for individuals in and outside the College who wish to make a suggestion about a burning issue or lodge a complaint against other individuals including students, tutors and OLC Staff.

Scope

It is intended that concerns and complaints are resolved by classifying them into the following two categories: Within the College – suggestions and complaints about the tutors and the College functionalities; Outside the College – complaints about the Board of Directors of the College and professional bodies such as City & Guilds, Edexcel and ICM.

Within the College:

Informal

Individuals with concerns can have an informal discussion with their tutors, the OLC ICM Course Manager (Mr Greg Paton), the individual Programme Managers or staff at any OLC campus in order to resolve the issue.

Formal

- Complaints should be in writing to the Director of Student Services (Julie Semmens) or the Director of Curriculum (Sarah Moraes).
- The complaint will be investigated by the appropriate people and a panel set up (usually headed by the Director of Curriculum (Sarah Moraes) to consider the complaint at which the complainant may make an oral presentation to supplement the written complaint.
- Notification of the outcome will be given in writing. A Customer feedback/Complaint report will be presented to the OLC management board.
- Only after exhausting the college's arrangements for handling complaints, may a complainant be able to complain to any external authority.

If complainants are in any doubt about where to direct their complaint, they should write to the Director of Student Services (Julie Semmens) who will then make the necessary arrangements or advise the complainant about what steps to take.

- Complaints about the actions of individual tutors/lecturers should, in the first instance, be taken up with the Director of Curriculum (Sarah Moraes)
- Complaints about the actions of the any Director should be taken up by the Managing Director (Dr Chris Bamber).

If the issues have not been resolved satisfactorily, students can pursue their complaint further via NCG complaints and appeals procedures. More information is available from:

Mitigating Circumstances Guidance Form

Notes for the Student – please read carefully

The Mitigating Circumstances Report Form (included below) must be completed if the Mitigating Circumstances Committee appointed by the Board of Examiners is to take account of any extenuating circumstances when considering your academic performance.

NCG student can apply for mitigating circumstances via the Director of Student Services using the form below. Your application will be considered at the next scheduled Mitigation Panel.

You should complete all sections and upload your evidence to support your claim.

Any information you provide will be treated confidentially and will only be seen by the Mitigating Circumstances Panel. If it proves necessary to disclose this information to another party, this will not be done unless you give your explicit written permission.

Wherever possible you must supply written evidence. This should be a statement from a person competent to assess your situation professionally. Examples: Sick note, Doctor's letter, Death Certificate, Hospital letter, a letter from Programme Lead, Tutor or Student Welfare Officer, etc.

Students using the form attached must also include written evidence. The documents must be submitted to the Student Support Office or Programme Leads prior before the deadline dates.

The Mitigating Circumstances Committee sits every month to make recommendations to the External Examinations Board. A note of the Board's decision regarding your application will be forwarded to your student email advising you of the Mitigation Panel.

Grounds for Mitigation

1. Grounds for mitigation are unforeseeable or unpreventable circumstances that could have a significant adverse effect on the academic performance of a student. Possible mitigating circumstances include:-

- significant illness or injury;
- the death or critical/significant illness of a close family member/dependent;
- family crises or major financial problems leading to acute stress;
- absence for jury service or maternity, paternity or adoption leave.

2. Circumstances that will not normally be regarded as grounds for mitigation include

- holidays and events that were planned or could reasonably have been expected;
- assessments that are scheduled close together;
- misreading the timetable or misunderstanding the requirements for assessments;
- inadequate planning and time management;

- failure, loss or theft of a computer or printer that prevents submission of work on time: (students should back up work regularly and not leave completion so late that they cannot find another computer or printer);
- consequences of paid employment;
- exam stress or panic attacks not diagnosed as illness.

3. For the avoidance of doubt, pregnancy is not an illness but an altered state of normality, so that unless the woman has an illness, she decides how near to the birth she will work. Events may arise during pregnancy that may constitute mitigating circumstances, and these need to be judged on an individual basis. Note that U.K. legislation does not allow a woman to work in the first six weeks following the birth.

4. Absence from the College during the semester for any period of no more than five working days will not normally be regarded as grounds for mitigation unless the absence occurred for good cause within a two-week period immediately preceding a formal college examination or the deadline for submitting a piece of assessed course work or delivering an assessed presentation.
