Introduction

The OLC (Europe) College Handbook is intended to give students guidance on what is expected from them during their time at the College, what they can expect from the College in return, and an introduction to the forms and procedures they will need to fill out and follow in the course of their studies.

Dedicated to providing students with the best learning experience possible, OLC (Europe) adheres to the teaching practice of “Learning by Doing” to ensure that each and every student has the optimal chance of achieving their potential.

If anything in this handbook is unclear please see a member of OLC Staff for clarification. The College is open every weekday, except Bank Holidays, and staff will be available for guidance on college, academic or personal issues from 9am to 5pm.

The Government emphasis that schools are required to ensure that key ‘British Values’ are taught in all UK schools.

The Five British Values are:

- Democracy
- The Rule of Law
- Individual Liberty
- Mutual Respect
- Tolerance of those of different faiths and beliefs

OLC will ensure to promote these values inside and outside of the classroom. We follow equal opportunities guidance which guarantees that there will be no discrimination against any individual or group, regardless of faith, ethnicity, gender, sexuality, political or financial status, or similar. OLC is dedicated to preparing students for their adult life beyond the formal examined curriculum and ensuring that it promotes and reinforces British values to all its students.

Students will be introduced to the principles surrounding British Values and the government’s PREVENT programme during induction onto the course.

The Organisational Learning Centre Assessment Guidance

At the Organisational Learning Centre you will be given a variety of different assessment types in order to give you the very best chance of meeting the learning outcomes for your programmes. There are different pass grades attainable on each assessment: Pass, Merit and Distinction. Every assessment may not offer the chance to attain all three grades, but there will be chances for you to gain all three within every unit. If you receive a referral for an assessment then you have not met the requirements to pass and you will need to resit/resubmit.

Remember that you must pass all your assessments in order to pass the unit, and you must pass all of your units, however in some circumstances there may be one compensated unit in order to complete your programme.

Each of the different assessment types has different requirements that you should be familiar with. Some of the different types you might be given are:

Assignment: These are tasks given for you to complete outside of scheduled lesson time, within a given timescale (usually around 4 weeks). They can take the form of either a written report or essay. The individual requirements for these will vary from assignment to assignment, but there are several which are universal.

Tasks should always be word processed and be written in a student's own words; plagiarising the work of others will result in failure of the assignment and possible further action being taken against you. Any and all references to outside knowledge and theories should be completed in the Harvard style. Any previously marked drafts of your assignment must be included when you hand in your assignment.

Once completed, assignments should be handed in via Turnitin..

Assignment briefs for completion will be made available in the unit guides for each unit and spares will be available on the college VLE Moodle. As deadlines approach you will also be able to ask for spare assignment briefs at the front office of your campus.

Exam-Style Time Constrained Assessment: Questions and tasks given to be completed under examination conditions. These time constrained assignments are usually 1-3 hours long. Answers are to be written within the provided answer booklet unless instructions on the question paper state otherwise. Always ensure that you have filled in the front of these answer booklets with all your relevant information.

One or more invigilators will be present while the time constrained assessment is underway. If you need anything during the assessment then raise your hand and the invigilator will see you. Invigilators will help you understand the questions on the paper but will not help you with the answers. The assessment will be held in silence and all mobile phones should be turned off. Breaches of the examination conditions may lead invigilators expelling you from the assessment with your paper ungraded. Serious breaches may lead to further action being taken against you.

Presentations: Individual or group presentations to be given in front of an audience. You will be given a question or task and will have to prepare a presentation in order to answer/complete it. These presentations will have strict time limits, usually around 5-20 minutes, and must contain a certain amount of presentation slides. Within these presentations it is not just your answers which are being assessed but also your presentation and communications skills. A paper copy of your presentation slides is to be submitted at the time of delivering your presentation, and your tutor may also set a written report to support it.

Projects: Projects follow the same basic rules as assignments but are longer and more detailed. As such, you will have a longer amount of time in order to prepare them. Projects usually are based on answering research questions or solving and implementing solutions to programme specific problems. Once complete, the project is submitted in the same way as an assignment.

Portfolios: Portfolios of work are made up from several smaller pieces of work that come together to form a collection showing that you have met the learning outcomes of your unit. These pieces of work may be worked upon in class or in your own time. Once the portfolio is complete it should be submitted in the same manner as assignments.

A Note on Plagiarism and Examination Offences

Plagiarism is the act of reproducing someone else's work and presenting it as your own. This can be as minor as simply forgetting to reference an idea, to as serious as handing in work which has been directly copied from a book, website, another student or any other source. Plagiarism is bad academic practice and if you are found to have deliberately committed plagiarism then action will be taken against you.

No action will usually be taken where the plagiarism is just due to accidental referencing errors, other than the assignment being referred.

For major incidences of plagiarism your work will be referred to the programme manager, who will decide what action to take.

Examination offences include talking or cheating during time constrained assessments, bringing in unauthorised materials or devices, disruptive behaviour and any other behaviour or action that might threaten the reliability of the assessment results. If you are believed to have committed an examination offence, the invigilator will seize your work and remove you from the assessment room; you will then be referred to the programme manager who will take further action.

Almost all plagiarism and examination offences will result in you receiving a formal written warning. The ultimate penalty for plagiarism and examination offences is expulsion from the college.

If you feel that any decision on plagiarism or examination offences has been made against you unfairly, or in error, you have the right to appeal. In the case where a decision has been made to expel you from the college, an appeal hearing will be arranged automatically. Refer to the appeals section of the College Handbook for further information on the appeals process.

This assessment guidance was updated on 5/07/20.

The Role of the Personal Tutor:

Your unit tutor is also your personal tutor during your time at OLC Europe College. The tutor's role includes:

- To meet with you for a minimum of 15 minutes each term
- Being first line of the complaints / support procedure
- To track attendance and punctuality
- To initiate the intervention process for poor attendance and punctuality
- To initiate the intervention process for non-submissions
- To discover any issues / barriers for non-submissions
- To direct you to the correct place for information
- To set goals
- To send you mitigating circumstances / request for leave forms

It is important to attend any requested meetings and to keep your unit tutor/programme lead or student services informed of any changes in your circumstances.

Complaints and Feedback Procedure

Introduction

OLC (Europe) Ltd take all concerns and complaints seriously and deal with them using the Complaints and Feedback Policy. It is only through a proper feedback system that it can improve services to both the staff and the students. It may take the form of a concern being reported informally or a more formal complaint being submitted in writing.

Aim

The aim of this policy is to outline the arrangements for individuals in and outside the College who wish to make a suggestion about a burning issue or lodge a complaint against other individuals including students, tutors and OLC Staff.

Scope

It is intended that concerns and complaints are resolved by classifying them into the following two categories:

- Within the College – suggestions and complaints about the tutors and the College functionalities
- Outside the College – complaints about the Board of Directors of the College and professional bodies such as City & Guilds, Edexcel and ICM

Within the College:

Informal

Individuals with concerns can have an informal discussion with their tutors, the OLC ICM Course Manager (Mr Greg Paton), the individual Programme Managers or staff at any OLC campus in order to resolve the issue.

Formal

- Complaints should be in writing to the Director of Student Services (Julie Semmens) or the Director of Curriculum (Sarah Moraes).
- The complaint will be investigated by the appropriate people and a panel set up (usually headed by the Director of Curriculum (Sarah Moraes) to consider the complaint at which the complainant may make an oral presentation to supplement the written complaint.
- Notification of the outcome will be given in writing. A Customer feedback/Complaint report will be presented to the OLC management board.
- Only after exhausting the college's arrangements for handling complaints, may a complainant be able to complain to any external authority.

If complainants are in any doubt about where to direct their complaint, they should write to the Director of Student Services (Julie Semmens) who will then make the necessary arrangements or advise the complainant about what steps to take.

- Complaints about the actions of individual tutors/lecturers should, in the first instance, be taken up with the Director of Curriculum (Sarah Moraes)
- Complaints about the actions of the any Director should be taken up by the Managing Director (Dr Chris Bamber).

The procedures, or indeed the general procedure for dealing with complaints of any kind, can be summed up as follows:

- The matter should be broached with the tutor.
- If a satisfactory conclusion is still not reached, then a formal complaint in writing can be made to the Director of Curriculum (Sarah Moraes) through the college office.

Mitigating Circumstances Guidance Form

Notes for the Student – please read carefully

The Mitigating Circumstances Report Form (included below) must be completed if the Mitigating Circumstances Committee appointed by the Board of Examiners is to take account of any extenuating circumstances when considering your academic performance.

You should complete all sections. If necessary, continue on separate sheets (signed by you and attached to this form). The completed form must be signed by the Programme Lead.

Any information you provide will be treated confidentially and will only be seen by the Mitigating Circumstances Committee. If it proves necessary to disclose this information to another party, this will not be done unless you give your explicit written permission.

Wherever possible you must supply written evidence. This should be a statement from a person competent to assess your situation professionally. Examples: Doctor's note, a letter from Programme Lead, Tutor or Student Welfare Officer, etc.

The completed form, and attached evidence, must be submitted to the Student Support Office or Programme Leads, by the end of the appropriate College Assessment period

The Mitigating Circumstances Committee sits every month to make recommendations to the External Examinations Board. A note of the Board's decision regarding your application will be forwarded to you. Please email jsemmens@olceurope.com for a copy of that decision.

Grounds for Mitigation

- family crises or major financial problems leading to acute stress;
- absence for jury service or maternity, paternity or adoption leave.

2. Circumstances that will not normally be regarded as grounds for mitigation include

- holidays and events that were planned or could reasonably have been expected;
- assessments that are scheduled close together;
- misreading the timetable or misunderstanding the requirements for assessments;
- inadequate planning and time management;
- failure, loss or theft of a computer or printer that prevents submission of work on time: (students should back up work regularly and not leave completion so late that they cannot find another computer or printer);
- consequences of paid employment;
- exam stress or panic attacks not diagnosed as illness.

3. For the avoidance of doubt, pregnancy is not an illness but an altered state of normality, so that unless the woman has an illness, she decides how near to the birth she will work. Events may arise during pregnancy that may constitute mitigating circumstances, and these need to be judged on an individual basis. Note that U.K. legislation does not allow a woman to work in the first six weeks following the birth.

4. Absence from the College during the semester for any period of no more than five working days will not normally be regarded as grounds for mitigation unless the absence occurred for good cause within a two-week period immediately preceding a formal college examination or the deadline for submitting a piece of assessed course work or delivering an assessed presentation.

Learner Support - POLICY STATEMENT

The Learner Support Policy has been created to ensure all learners are provided with every opportunity to achieve and progress throughout their studies at OLC Europe Ltd. The College has developed a comprehensive support programme, both weekly and termly, to provide multiple access and referral points to designated individuals.

OLC Europe Ltd is committed to ensuring that:

1. The delivery methods of College courses are clearly disclosed so that students that need a particular delivery style are clear about what the College is offering;
2. All students are offered all practical and reasonable support to complete their qualification;
3. Students receive regular follow up and assistance from Learner Support Staff via the weekly support programme;
4. Additional support is provided by means of tutorials, assignment workshops and tutor meetings to manage and support assignment completion and progression throughout the study programme;
5. External experts that can support students with specific needs are accessed as needed and their contact details published so that students can access these services without firstly having to contact the College.

Key Policy Points:

1. Where it is identified that a student is not making satisfactory progress the College Support Staff and Tutors will review if a special need exists and work with the student to progress their studies. This will be extended to inviting students to assignment workshops during holiday periods.
2. The College will publish on its website a list of external student support services and contact details. In addition, the College will provide all students with a copy of the Learner Support document to inform the Colleges intent and referral points.
3. The College will record student meetings via Tutor files / ILP's, student personal files and via, the VLE system (Synopsis). Such records can be used to inform the Colleges decision on Student Progression.

The range of support services that can be offered from College resources include:

1. Assistance with developing better writing skills to achieve higher academic standards and preparation for academic progression;
2. Assistance to develop transferable skills that can enable students to gain employment beyond the full-time study programme;

3. Availability of materials in different formats to address a disability or remote location (upon request and diagnosis);
4. Agreed follow up and support contact via Support Staff and Tutors.

For further details refer to the attached appendix (Learner Support, Achieving Together).
